New $50 Note Update

Issue date: 18th October, 2018

On the 18th October, 2018 The Reserve Bank will be releasing the first of the new generation $50 notes. All current $50 notes will be replaced gradually over time with new generation notes.

THE NEW $50 BANKNOTE

Thomas Findlay Group has been involved in this process from its inception and test weighing of the new $50 notes has been carried out. Due to a small variance of weight between the old $50 notes and the new $50 notes (lighter), we recommend the following:

New $50 Note Tracking

1. Ensure the Cash Scale is in $50 loose mode.
2. Place 5-8 of the $50 notes on to the hod.
3. After a reading is displayed, continue adding 5-8 notes until 100 notes are on the hod.
4. If the display reads "Too many notes. Remove some", remove a few notes until you get a valid reading, then continue.
5. Once there are 100 x $50 notes on the scale, remove the notes and repeat steps 2-4, increasing the number of notes applied each time, until scale counts 30-40 notes at a time.
6. This procedure must be completed before packaged notes can be counted.

NB. Please ensure the Note Holder is firmly engaged before you start.

Older machines i.e. Omega C, Omega CDC, Omega CFC, Sigma 165 and Sigma 100, may be slower to respond due to their older technology.
